ECOHAUS COLLECTING DONATIONS FOR THE PORTLAND POLICE SUNSHINE DIVISION IN DECEMBER

Who: ecohaus
What: Hosting a food drive to benefit The Sunshine Division
When: December 1 through December 30, 2008
Where: 819 SE Taylor Street, Portland, OR 97214

Portland, OR 12.2.08 - Green building retailer ecohaus will be collecting donations for The Portland Police Sunshine Division with a food drive through the month of December. From December 1 through December 30, we will collect non-perishable food items at our stores in Portland. Those who bring in donations can enter to win a $100 gift certificate to ecohaus.

We are looking for donations of non-perishable food and baby items that are nutritious and low in sugars - for example: oatmeal, whole grain pastas, canned fruits and vegetables, canned chili or soup, as well as baby formula, diapers and canned milk. For more information about suitable donations, please visit www.sunshinedivision.org.

Donations are being accepted at all ecohaus locations during business hours: Monday-Friday, 8am - 6pm; Saturday, 10am - 5pm; Sunday, 11am - 5pm.

Questions about the food drive should be directed to Jessica Hussman at 503.222.3881 or jessicah@ecohaus.com.

About The Sunshine Division:

The Portland Police Sunshine Division is a non-profit emergency food relief organization. The Division maintains a civilian Board of Directors with the assistance of one sergeant paid for and supported by the Police Bureau. The Division has been in operation since the early 1920's and continues to offer emergency food relief as a result of generous donations of food, cash and services from local businesses and the general public.
